

Mountain View Reads Together 2012 Book Selection

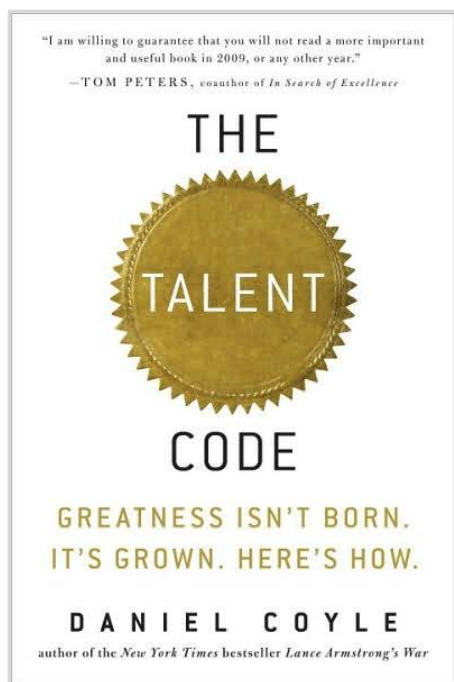

Mountain View Reads Together is pleased to announce that the 2012 book selection will now be The Talent Code: Greatness Isn't Born. It's Grown. Here's How by Daniel Coyle.

Journalist and New York Times bestselling author Daniel Coyle visited “talent hotspots” throughout the world, and found a common pattern in the way the brain acquires skill through training, coaching, and motivation. He presents these tools as ways for us to unlock our own talents.

The Mountain View Reads Together committee withdrew the title Imagine: How Creativity Works by Jonah Lehrer as their 2012 book selection. Lehrer resigned from his position at The New Yorker after admitting that he made up quotations he attributed to Bob Dylan in Imagine.

Mountain View Reads Together is an annual celebration of one book, chosen by committee. The community is encouraged to read the title and attend events and discussions related to the themes of the book. This year's events will take place throughout the month of October.

For more information, visit <http://mountainview.gov/library>, or <http://www.mvreads.org/>.

The Talent Code

Daniel Coyle